

Regulation, Security and Justice Research Centre
School of Law, University of Manchester

First Annual Public Lecture

Professor John Braithwaite
Australian National University

Regulatory Imagination and Justice Research

2.00pm Wednesday 30 September 2009
University Place, Oxford Road

Pioneering criminology, regulation and restorative justice scholar, Professor John Braithwaite, will be giving the First Annual Lecture of the Regulation, Security and Justice Research Centre. Internationally renowned, Professor Braithwaite has written many books including Crime, Shame and Reintegration (1989), Not Just Deserts (1990, with Philip Pettit), Responsive Regulation (1992, with Ian Ayres), Restorative Justice and Responsive Regulation (2002) and Regulatory Capitalism (2008). A founder of the Regulatory Institutions Network (RegNet) at the Australian National University he is currently working on a comparative peacebuilding project.

The Regulation, Security and Justice Research Centre seeks to develop understanding of issues such as human security, policing and criminal justice through the application of inter-disciplinary regulatory perspectives and theory.

If you are outside the University and wish to attend, or require further information, please contact Zoë Day: zoe.day@manchester.ac.uk.

Regulation, Security and Justice Research Centre
School of Law, University of Manchester, Oxford Road M13 9PL
<http://www.law.manchester.ac.uk/research/centres/ccsls/rsj>

